Please help us to keep Arduaine Garden open!

The National Trust for Scotland is proposing to close Arduaine Garden, near Kilmelford, as part of essential cost-cutting measures throughout Trust properties.

An 'Arduaine Garden Action Group' has been set up in an attempt to persuade the Trust to find a way to save this wonderful garden. You can help by signing the form below to show your support. If you would like to be kept informed of progress, please add your address (preferably email) in the space provided. Thank you very much.
